

GIVE GIRL CHLOROFORM; CHARGED WITH MURDER

MEMBERS OF SHAKER COLONY TELL WHOLE STORY AND BELIEVE THEY ARE IN THE RIGHT--BUSINESS MEN FURNISH BONDS

Kissimmee, Fla., Sept. 13.—Hopelessly stricken with tuberculosis, Sister Sadie L. Merchant, of the Shaker colony, was put out of misery by the administration of chloroform at her own request. Brother Egbert B. Gillette and Sister Elizabeth Sears are under arrest, charged with murder.

their duty to God and to a member of the household.

The Shaker colony is located about nine miles east of this place. The members take no part in politics, have no use for courts. They tell the truth under all circumstances.

Brother Gillette, in jail, says that Sister Sadie came to the colony six years and three months ago. She was ill from tuberculosis. His story:

"She had been suffering terribly from consumption for several weeks, and we all knew that the time was short when she would be called. A week ago the climax was reached. She was in what everyone knows to be the last stage of consumption.

"Sister Sadie always told us to let her die in peace and without pain, and asked Sister Elizabeth that day to let her get out of the body.

"She refused to eat anything more after that.

"Sunday night she suffered terribly, and toward morning begged us to kill her.

"I went to St. Cloud at daylight Monday and got some opiates to ease her, and gave her all I brought, which seemed to soothe her pain.

"I went to St. Cloud for more, and when I gave them to her she could not take them. She suffered so that again I went to St. Cloud and got two ounces of chloroform, which I gave her on a cloth, and she went to sleep.

"I went to St. Cloud again and got six or eight ounces more of chloroform, and when I returned I found she had come out from under the influence of the first I had given her, and I gave her another dose. She passed away at 5.50 p. m.

"Every time I gave her anything I asked her, 'Sadie, do you want this?' and she would say, 'Yes.'

"Before I gave her the last sleeping potion, I made it a special point to tell her that if she wanted to hang on and suffer out, that we would do everything possible to help her.

"She wanted us to do as we did, and urged us to give her the chloroform.

"I think I did right, and my conscience is perfectly at ease."

Gillette's bond, $5,000, and that of Sister Sears, $2,000, were signed by prominent men here.

The set-to between the governor of Alabama and the governor of New Jersey perked up the first session considerably. Drowsy governors who had leaned their ears for six hours against solemn speeches calling for more power to the governor's elbow and speeches acclaiming the recall as a divine institution, straightened their backs and began to take an interest in the proceedings. There were bellicose looks at O'Neal, and Wilson's jaw muscles, were working, but nothing happened after all. So the governors leaned back to watch Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson of "Merry Smack" fame circulate among the dinner guests and waiting till the dinner gong sounded.

Looking from the veranda of the new Monmouth hotel, where the governors are living and talking, one found the view of the ocean somewhat obstructed by governors. Smoking their after dinner cigars. There were so many governors that a plain lieutenant governor or even a secretary of state would have been a relief to the eye.

Arm in arm with Hoke Smith of Georgia was Judson Harmon of Ohio, saying little to Smith's music. They seem to have become close friends in a few hours. Lee Cruise of Oklahoma, a ministerial looking individual in his long frock coat, low collar and black string tie, walked with Frederick W. Plaisted of Maine, who had just got the news that the prohibitionists had won out up home after all.

Altogether there had arrived twenty-three state executives out of the forty-eight that constitute the house of governors. One saw, in addition to Governors Harmon, Wilson, O'Neal, Plaisted and Smith, Governors John F. Shafroth, Albert W. Gilchrist, James H. Hawley, Augustus E. Willis, Eugene N. Foss, Edmund F. Noel, Herbert S. Hadley, Edwin L. Norris, Chester H. Aldrich, William W. Kitchin, John Burke, Lee Cruise, Aram J. Pothier, Robert S. Vessey, William Hodges Mann, Marlon E. Hay, William E. Glasscock, Francis E. McGovern and Joseph M. Carey. More are expected. Some of the forty-eight have sent word, though, that they will have to miss this year's meeting. One had to attend a meeting of the Red Men's Lodge, another has the appendicitis, and several have legistatures that need watching.

DIEGLE TO MAKE BIG DISCLOSURE

Gives Impression He Is Going to Tell Everything,

FOUND AT FRENCH LICK, IND.

Next Monday to Be Limit of His Silence or His Liberty—New Names Brought into Ohio Bribery Scandal.

French Lick Springs, Ind., Sept. 13.—"I'll tell all. Never mind what I'm writing. Call it 'My Memoirs of Ohio Politics' if you want. There will be no doubt of what I say after a long day."

Rodney J. Diegle, sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio senate, convicted of bribery, made the foregoing declaration at the French Lick Springs hotel here. Diegle had been missing from Columbus, O., several hours before his whereabouts became known.

Accompanying Diegle were his attorney, John Egan, of Dayton, and Detective Harry Bradbury of Cleveland. Diegle gave out the impression that he is preparing to relate freely and fully the story of alleged corruption in the Ohio legislature. Other names besides those already involved are mentioned by those who have talked with Diegle and have obtained an inkling of what he is to reveal Monday, when the time limit which is shielding him from the Ohio penitentiary expires.

It is said that Diegle fears that attempts may be made upon his life, and that Detective Bradbury is with him more as protector than custodian.

MATCH IGNITES GASOLINE

One Man's Carelessness Causes Serious Injury of Two Others.

Croswell, Mich., Sept. 13.—While Frank Hall was cleaning the transmission of an auto at Fred Moore's garage here with gasoline, he dropped a bolt. Unable to find it, he lighted a match to search for it. The gasoline blazed up, setting fire to the car, in the front seat of which was a can of gasoline. Hall's father seized the can and ran outside with it.

On the way out some of the gasoline spilled on the elder Hall and caught fire, and when he collided at the door with Hawkins Moore, the flames spread to the latter. Roy Lewis and Willett Straffon, seeing the plight of the two men, wrapped them in some pieces of carpet, smothering the flames, and both will recover. Frank Hall was uninjured, and the burning auto was saved.

SETS SELF AFIRE AND DIES

Woman Touches Match to Clothes and Survives Three Weeks.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 13.—Transforming herself into a living torch by setting her clothing on fire, Mrs. Birney Norton, fifty years old, of Trufant, died here in the detention hospital, where she had been confined as an inmate.

Mrs. Norton was brought here three weeks ago, suffering from dementia. While she was left unguarded for a moment on the porch of the second floor, she obtained a match by reaching through the bathroom window. A moment later her clothing was in flames. Although the flames were quickly extinguished the shock proved too great for her enfeebled condition.

The Daily Press Profitbringers are sure to bring results.

VOLCANO THREATENS 65 CITIES

SCOUTS GIVEN PREFERENCE OVER
NATIONAL GUARDS

A gratifying feature of the invitation for the Boy Scouts of Ypsilanti and Detroit to act as escort to President Taft on Monday in Detroit is that the Scouts were given the preference over the national troops in this regard. The original plan had been to invite the troops from Fort Wayne to escort the chief executive on this occasion, and their bright uniforms and flashing arms would have made a brilliant note in the line. But through the influence of Milton A. McRae in Detroit, who is greatly interested in scouting affairs, the invitation was extended to the Boy Scouts and not to the Fort Wayne troops.

The management of Boy Scouts affairs in Ypsilanti, while realizing that this is to be a singularly happy treat for the boys and one which their memories will cherish always, still do not lose sight of the fact that for the city of Ypsilanti to be represented by her young boys and men on this occasion will advertise the city very acceptably. Ypsilanti will probably divide the honors of the event only with one other troop of scouts—those of Detroit, and the Detroit men are as keen as those in Ypsilanti that the representation of Scouts shall be large and, if possible, complete.

Scoutmasters Gordon and Norton will assume charge of the boys.

H. C. Gordon and Frank Norton have been requested by Eugene Foster to come into Detroit to go over the ground thoroughly so as to understand perfectly the plans governing next Monday's procedure.

WOULD HAVE THE PEOPLE KNOW WHAT THEY BUY

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 13.—Dr. J. S. Abbott, head of the state pure food commission, is determined that the people shall know what they are using when drugs are sold and has sent out a circular instructing all druggists throughout the state to use common names instead of technical terms in showing the constituent parts of prescriptions. He says that when chloroform is used it should be labeled chloroform instead of "trichloromethane," and that alcohol should be labeled alcohol instead of "ethyl alcohol."

Dr. Abbott says that in the future all county attorneys who are negligent in prosecuting offenders against the pure food and drug law will be exposed to their constituents. This is in line with Dr. Abbott's strong fight for pure food in Texas.

LOS ANGELES HAS M'NAMARA

Judge Rules John J. Need Not Be Taken Back to Indianapolis.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 13.—Judge Bordwell, before whom John J. and James B. McNamara will be tried Oct. 11, on indictments charging them with dynamiting and murder in connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times plant, ruled that John J. McNamara must be tried in Los Angeles and not at Indianapolis, from which city it was asserted he had been kidnapped, as the defense had requested. The bill of exceptions filed by counsel for McNamara questioned the jurisdiction of the superior court, but the court held it had jurisdiction.

Cyrus McNutt, one of the attorneys for the defense, stated there would be no appeal from his decision.

REGIONS OF LAVA COVERED EARTH TORN OPEN
BY SHOCKS, RAILWAY STATIONS ARE ABANDONED; NAPLES PROFESSOR MAKES OBSERVATIONS IN CRATER OF MT. VE-SUVIUS AT GREAT RISK OF LIFE

Catania, Italy, Sept. 13.—An area of 400 square miles, including 65 cities and villages and supporting a population of 300,000 is threatened by an eruption of Mt. Etna. The people are panic stricken.

The eruption is assuming the proportions of a real disaster. The lava stream, whose path crosses the railway line circling the volcano, is approaching the railway stations to the north and especially threatening the depots at Moio and Alcantara, which were abandoned today.

Squads of laborers were at work today taking up railway tracks and removing all transportable material to places of safety.

The entire crest of Mt. Etna appears to be in a state of ebullition. An exact count of the number of fissures is impossible because of the smoke which shrouds the whole Suspension of Van Schaick & Co. Is Announced on 'Change.

New York, Sept. 13.—The suspension of Van Schaick & Co., members of the New York stock exchange, was announced on the exchange.

REMEMBER OUR CITY TONIGHT.

We again call your attention to the annual meeting of the Ypsilanti Industrial Association, to be held at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 tonight. We again emphasize our belief that this is every citizen's business and ought to be attended to in person. Why not make this the occasion for a rousing get-together—push—Ypsilanti mass meeting? Join the association if you have not; but, whether you are ready to join yet or not, be there. See what is going on. Say something. Be a part of your city that can always be counted for the city's welfare.

We believe firmly that for the same reason that advertising is the great business promoter of the present age for the private business, just so is it the same potent promoter of the municipality. The same principles of wholesome publicity obtain, whether the single individual is advertising, or whether it be a group associated in a partnership, or a corporation, or a larger group associated in the form of a municipal corporation, such as is our city.

Advertising of course is of a multitude of forms. Whether it be by every enthusiastic citizen maintaining a demeanor of optimism at home and abroad and speaking a good word of and for his home town at home and while away from home and speaking a good word for the goods manufactured in his home town, whether he be at home or away from home, and speaking a good word for the business institutions and the worthy citizens of his own town while at home or away from home; or whether it be the use of "booster" envelopes and stationery every time he mails a letter; or whether it be by the use of some more expensive form of literature to be mailed out; or whether it be in the more comprehensive way that has been adopted by so many municipalities now that many of the great metropolitan dailies have established a department to meet the demands of this kind of advertising.

On our desk today lies an elaborate brochure, issued by one of the great Chicago dailies, entitled "Modern Municipal Industrial Promotion," and giving several pages of illustrations of what Michigan municipalities are doing along this line. Speaking especially of the activities of the Middle West, this statement is used: "Within the past year the industrial development of our cities in the Middle West has been so great that every interest has been given publicity in one form or another for the purpose of inducing capital to come to these cities to be permanently employed in developing the natural resources of the municipality or in manufacturing."

The Middle West is at a disadvantage as compared with us because of their remote location from the great centers of population and because of their inferior transportation facilities and yet they are succeeding in their municipal promotion enterprises so as to attract the attention of all parts of the country. If such well recognized methods of advertising can spell success for a town away off on a distant prairie, can there be any valid reason why the success of the same methods if applied to the natural advantages we have should not be even more pronounced?

Ypsilanti will shortly be at the threshold of the electrical division of the great Michigan Central system out of Detroit. Its transportation facilities to Detroit outrank by far any of the nearby cities. And Mt. Clemens is already urging Detroit to regard her as a suburb and to advertise her as such, by which she hopes to receive a great deal of gratuitous and profitable advertising, we presume. She has long advertised her largest asset, her mineral water. It has built the city of Mt. Clemens. And we have the same asset left to lie essentially dormant, and this after it has already been established as the equal, if not the superior, of the Mt. Clemens water.

After a fire had swept a little Michigan city from off the map, the mettle of its citizenship manifested itself and fifty buildings are already up and industries going, while the people throughout the state are still collecting and forwarding supplies for the fire sufferers. We hope it will not be necessary for a disaster to overtaken our city before we awaken ourselves to our civic duties and possibilities.

Remember our city tonight!

This is said to be the only dirigible balloon of the first-class ever manufactured outside of Europe. The balloon is 268 feet long and 45 feet wide at its largest diameter. In order to make the envelope gas tight it was necessary to cement each seam before stitching it and then to cement a piece of tape on each side of it. The fabric is built up of three layers of cotton cloth sandwiches in between four layers of rubber. Though only .03 of an inch thick it will stand a tensile strength of 100 pounds to the inch. It weighed 400 pounds.

Conquer Self-Distrust.

Self-distrust is the cause of most of our failures. In the assurance of strength there is strength, and they are the weakest, however strong, who have no faith in themselves or their powers.—Bovee.

SAYS FARMER SHOULD BE CONSIDERED BY CONGRESS

Washington, Sept. 13.—One of the new progressive Congressmen, Hon. Ira C. Copley, of the 11th Illinois district, a successful, shrewd business man, says in a recent interview that whether or not the farmer would be hurt by reciprocity with Canada would make little difference; that if he only thought he was hurt and thereby reduced his expenditures temporarily, the jobbers and manufacturers in the remotest parts of the United States would feel the effects and Wall Street would respond to the resulting stringency in trade.

"The recent extra session of Congress did much to worry the farmers," he said, "besides passing the reciprocity treaty bill, it tried to add to the free list the item of lemons, and falling, announcement was made by democratic leaders that at the next session the effort would be renewed and that a general assault would be made all along the line of the agricultural schedule."

"Probably the country at large does not care much about the lemon growers, although their groves and plants are said to represent an investment of some $175,000,000. Still less does the country at large care about the additional duty of one-half cent per pound on lemons which the Payne-Aldrich bill gave, and which, in 1910, amounted to something less than one cent each for every man, woman and child in the United States. Who, then, should care, that determined effort should be made to have the duty removed? Who, indeed, but the importers of lemons, and the foreign growers of them? And is it for the foreign interests that Congress is legislating? Other nations do not legislate in that way. When we demanded of Germany certain concessions in the potato tax, we received cold comfort from the German government."

"The lemon growers showed very conclusively that their competition with the imported fruit had kept prices down, and that the tariff, while it contributed substantially to the treasury, was a burden on the foreigner only, if indeed on him. But that did not affect the men who had Italian votes in their districts and so cared nothing for lemon growers whose votes could not help or hinder their political fortunes. Still, if the lemon growers, the orange growers, the raisin, olive, fig, walnut and grape growers and all the other specialists who have to make considerable investments and wait years for returns, become alarmed at the threat of reductions of the tariff on their products, will not the cotton mills of the South and of Fall River, the shoe factories of Massachusetts, the automobile makers, the woolen men, the jewelry manufacturers, the thousand and one crafts in all parts of the country, feel the tightening of the purse strings and find their balances smaller at their bankers, and be constrained to lay off hands to be on the safe side of the market?"

"Perhaps the tariff revisers would do well to study the possible results before they undertake to make changes that will frighten the farming classes," which, as Congressman Copley says, "possess 50 per cent of the purchasing power of the country."

OBJECT LESSON FOR FARMERS AT PRODUCE SHOW

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 13.—The Michigan Agricultural college is to have an unusual "object lesson school" at the first Michigan Land and Apple show in Grand Rapids next November at which fruit growers, farmers, buyers, and the general public will have a chance to reap the benefits of the extensive experiments and the diligent study whereby the college experts have sought to solve the horticultural and agricultural problems of the state and to develop Michigan soil and climate to their highest producing efficiency.

In it will be shown the many varieties of apples grown at the Horticultural Experiment station maintained by the state at South Haven. These include many varieties of apples not generally grown in Michigan, and that could be found in no other display. The station has been conducting wide experiments with a view to finding just what kinds of apples will do best in Michigan and which will yield the greater returns to the grower.

In addition the Agricultural college will show in an impressive way the benefits derived from scientific farming and the use of proper methods in combating diseases and parasites. Specimens of trees and fruit grown in the old, neglected way, the prey of various pests, will be shown in contrast to healthy, wholesome fruit and trees protected by proper spraying and developed by proper care. There will also be shown samples of various pests and their depredations, so that growers and others may become familiar with them and guard against them.

The exhibit will be in charge of experts from the Agricultural college, and it may be regarded as a practical school with sound and valuable lessons for every person who seeks information along orchard or farm lines.

VOTE ON FOOTBALL TEAM TIE--COUNCIL WILL DECIDE IT

The question whether the school should have a school football team and secure interscholastic contests or should follow the plan of inter-class contests that worked so well last year, was discussed at the meeting of the Ypsilanti High School Athletic association Tuesday afternoon and the vote was a tie, 28 to 28. This matter will therefore be settled by the athletic council, of which the faculty members are Prof. Quillin, Prof. Ross and Miss Hardy.

PROWLERS ARE STILL BUSY IN SOME SECTIONS

The midnight prowler who for the past two weeks has been visiting the residents on Grove street has also made visits on Ballard and Emmet streets.

A few days ago a lady on Ballard street was somewhat surprised on looking out of a window to see a man's face peering in at her. He was standing on the porch watching what was taking place on the inside. He quickly disappeared on being discovered, however, before a definite description could be obtained.

A few days later a resident of Emmet street missed one of her porch chairs. Upon enquiry a little later she was informed by a neighbor that she had found the chair under her bedroom window where it had probably been placed by someone who had evidently been looking in her bedroom windows.

Another lady was very much out of patience one morning recently when she found that a jardiniere, which she prized very highly as a gift, had been stolen. The plant had been carefully removed and left on the ground near the porch.

Another resident of Emmet street was aroused between one and two a. m. by voices. Upon investigation a couple were discovered sitting peacefully on the porch apparently enjoying a social hour. In the morning the chairs were found near the porch window. In their hasty departure they left some of their chocolates on the window.

Whether it is the work of one party or of different parties is not known as no definite description has been gained of any of the intruders. The street in the vicinity of the corner of Ballard and Emmet streets is particularly dark and if a light was placed here perhaps some of the prowlers might be disposed of.

HOW THE CLEVER STENOGRAPHER DRESSES FOR HER OFFICE WORK

TO be neat is one of the business woman's chief duties. No matter how careless he may be himself, no man wants an untidy or dowdy woman about his office. When employing help most men are disposed to give first chance to the girl who makes the best appearance. It favorably advertises the prosperity of the firm to have a cheerful, well dressed woman in its employ. A shabby, dissatisfied looking employee, does the opposite. Therefore every business woman should make a point of dressing as becomingly as she can. Old fashioned garments make a woman look old, and so she should keep up with the fashions as well as she can. The little suit illustrated here is simple, yet up to date. The short coat and trim hat represent the latest ideas in outdoor wear. Observe the neatness of the maiden at the typewriter. Her linen shirt waist and little stock are both inexpensive and chic. The stripes in the linen follow the demand for striped fabrics, yet these stripes are not so pronounced as to be obtrusive. For the business woman's shirt waist linens, while a trifle more expensive to begin with, have the advantages of laundering well and wearing better than any other fabrics. The thin lawn waist with its lace trimmings is out of place in a business office. Serges make the best business suits, although the new mohairs are likely to be popular owing to the fact that they are both handsome and serviceable. No fabric sheds the dust as does mohair. As to collar and neckwear, it should always be up to date, and it should always be scrupulously clean.

TO CURE BAD BABIES.

Follow the Japanese Custom and Massage Their Little "Tummies."

"I discovered a new cure for naughty children and the sulky, backward ones during a recent stay in Japan," says Miss Josephine Richardson, who has spent some time in the Flowery Kingdom as a teacher.

"This remedy is massage, and it is much better in results than the old fashioned spanking. For a time I did not comprehend just what style of punishment was administered when the children in my school became unruly and stubborn. If they became sullen and refused to learn or obey it was not for me to punish, and I reported to the parents. There would be a smile and a nod of the head, and the unruly child would be taken away for a day or two. Then when brought back the child was wonderfully changed, would be gay and happy, eager to learn and to enter into the spirit of things with vigor.

"I wondered what sort of possible punishment or kindness had been responsible for the change and learned that the children's stomachs had been carefully massaged several times a day. It seems that in Japan they think a bad temper is caused by a disordered stomach—in fact, the Japanese idea is that about all the wickedness of children comes from a bad stomach—and that organ is doctored by the massage treatment rather than with poisons taken internally."

DUTCH NECKS TABOOED.

Mrs. Cory Says Business Women Should Wear Business Clothes.

Mrs. Sarah M. Cory gave the Society For Political Study a protracted thrill when she propounded this theory:

"Dutch necks and elbow sleeves are inimical to woman's success in business life."

Mrs. Cory admitted the progress of her sex and the fact that women now worked shoulder to shoulder with men in the business world.

"But," she asked, "what would be thought of a man who wore evening clothes in business hours? And yet what do women wear under the same circumstances? Plain tailor made shirt waists and skirts are the exception, Dutch necks and elbow sleeves the average costume."

Women in the audience whose husbands had fluffy typewriters applauded vigorously.

Why Girls Like Baseball.

"Curious episode this. Seems a young fellow got excited at the ball game and hugged the young lady next to him, a perfect stranger. She had him arrested, but he told the judge that any man might do the same thing, and his claim was upheld by expert testimony."

"And what was the sequel?" "Well, the sequel is rather interesting. The next day there were 5,000 girls at the ball game."

STATUES ARE LATEST LUNCHEON FAD

THE ambitious hostess, always on the lookout for new and novel ideas for the dinner or luncheon table, has adopted the use of little figures, which are combined with the flowers and foliage in achieving handsome centerpieces or providing individual favors. Some of these figures, made especially for the purpose, are provided with skillfully hidden receptacles for flowers so that the blossoms seem to grow out of the statuette. Ordinary plaster casts, such as those vended by the itinerant Italian, may be touched up to resemble the ancient Greek tanagra figures; also they may be treated to look exactly like old ivory. To accomplish the colored effects the figure is first gone over with a piece of soft china silk and polished until the surface is smooth. If the features are vague they may be strengthened by deepening the lines with the point of a needle or hatpin. Oil colors are used for the tints because the plaster will absorb the oil. Thinning is done with benzine. The ivory finish is given to the plaster figure by first smoothing it and then tinting it thinly with sepia, especially along the lines of the figure, in order to simulate age. Then white wax is melted, and turpentine is brought to an equal temperature by standing a tin dish containing it in boiling water away from the fire, for turpentine is inflammable. The melted wax and turpentine are then combined, a few drops of sepia are stirred into the mixture, which is kept liquid by leaving it in the hot water, and the cast is then quickly immersed. When the figure is dry all the superfluous wax may be removed by rubbing it with rags of various finenesses, the polishing being done with a silk cloth. These home decorated figures may look just as handsome as the expensive ones from the shops. In fact, there is a woman artist in New York who makes a specialty of imitation tanagra figures and who charges large prices for them to the millionaire art lovers who are her patrons.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

TROTTER UHLAN IS PARTICULAR PIECE OF HORSEFLESH.

Uhlán, the world's champion trotter, is a mighty particular piece of horseflesh when it comes to drinking water. Not so very long ago Tom Logan, who is proud of being Uhlán's valet, hit upon the plan of furnishing Uhlán with spring water to drink. Tom figured he would give the gelding a treat for a few days, but he had no intentions of continuing the practice. When Logan tried to change from spring water to the old variety for Uhlán there was nothing doing. The star performer positively refused to drink. That's why Logan makes a five mile trip on a motorcycle every morning to provide Uhlán with spring water to drink.

STYMIE IS DOOMED.

Old Feature of Golf Likely to Be Eliminated.

The gun fired recently in the west intimating a renewal of the attack upon the much abused stymie has been heard with conflicting emotions in the east. Just because a well known player in some important match happens to lose a hole at a critical point, through being laid a stymie, fails to change a situation or condition that has existed for generations, say the loyal supporters of the old school. When the rules of golf were drafted the stymie became part and parcel of the game. It is still such. Even so, there are those who go so far as to say that the stymie is doomed, and that it is only a matter of a year or two ere it will be banished in America.

FOR CONSTIPATION

A Medicine that Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Satisfies.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener.
Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, and are notable for their agreeable-ness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Three sizes, 50c, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—Weinmann-Matthews

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A LITTLE SAGE AND SULPHUR MAKES GRAY HAIR VANISH—A REMEDY FOR HAIR TROUBLES.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature gray-ness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorized druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today and see what it will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress Street.

derful Hyomei and inhaler and soon got relief, and believe that it saved my life. I have recommended it to many. I am over seventy years old. I have told several prominent doctors what it did for me."

Free Remedy Helps Children

Many a mother has learned of a way of avoiding sickness in her family, especially among the children, by the use of a free sample bottle of the famous laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This offer of the doctor's to send a free sample bottle has been responded to by thousands of women in all parts of America.

This Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a truly wonderful laxative and especially adapted to the needs of babies and children because it is pleasant to taste and no child will refuse it. Then, it is mild and never gripes. It is all that a child's remedy should be, though it is a good laxative for the whole family because it is effective at all ages. It is simply not dynamic like salts, pills and powerful cathartics, which should not be given to children anyway.

Nine times out of ten when a child complains and you don't know exactly what is the matter with it, it needs a laxative—its bowels are constipated.
Syrup Pepsin will correct the trouble, tone up the child and soon it will be well again—over night wonderful results have been secured with Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents or a dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size, but you are invited to make a test of it first at the doctor's expense. Send him your address today and he will send you a free sample bottle direct to your home.
Then when satisfied buy it of your favorite druggist.
